

WHAT'S WITH THE WAX?

Learn about the functions of earwax

Earwax (also called cerumen) is a yellowish waxy substance produced by the ear. The wax helps to keep our ears moist and clean, helping to prevent ear infections. You should leave earwax alone to do its job.

Interfering too much with earwax by using cotton buds can cause a blockage in the ear.

Disney
BE HEALTHY
BE ACTIVE